Gun Play Kills Albanian Red

BELGRADE, Nov. 22. (AP) An Albanian communique said today that Nako Spiru, minister of economy and president of the economic council, "accidentally" shot himself while "toying with his gun" in conversation with coworkers in the council.

The communique, distributed by Tanjug, official news agency of the Yugoslav government, said Spiru died at a hospital despite many blood transfusions.

The communique said that the body of Spiru, long time Albanian Communist and a partisan leader during the war, was displaying yesterday in the parliament building, where a "long procession" of citizens placed wreaths on his coffin. Official homage was paid by Premier Enver Hoxha and other government officials, the communique added.

Dry Worker in Double Trouble

TOLEDO, Ohio, Nov. 22. (UP) A 64-year-old field representative of the Antisaloon League was in city workhouse today after pleading guilty in police court to driving while under the influence of liquor.

Rev. Howard B. Pilchard drew a three-day sentence and a $50 fine yesterday from Police Judge J. Parker Edwards, who ignored defense pleas that the dry worker had been punished sufficiently by the arrest and embarrassment.

In Columbus, S. P. McNaught, director of the Ohio Aatisaloon League, commented: "He will most likely not return."

Poland Escaper Loses Citizenship

WARSAW, Nov. 22. (AP) The council of ministers announced today that Stanislaw Mikolajczyk, former vice premier and leader of the Polish Peasant party, had been stripped of his Polish citizenship.

The action was recommended a week ago by a special parliamentary commission, which charged that the opposition party leader, who fled Poland for London last month, was "guilty of treason."

U. S. Ambassador Stanton Griffis issued a statement last night denying reports current in Warsaw that he might have had knowledge of how Mikolajczyk managed to flee.

Stamp to Mark Gold Discovery in State

WASHINGTON, Nov. 22. (UP) Rep. Clair Engle (D.-Calif.) said today the post office will issue a commemorative 3-cent stamp to celebrate the 100th anniversary of the discovery of gold in California.

The stamp, which Engle said the department hopes to have ready for issue by Jan. 23, will show a miner swinging a pick ax. First sale will be made at Coloma, in El Dorado County, Calif.

Radio Man Finds Way to Dress Them Up

By VIRGINIA MACPHERSON

HOLLYWOOD, Nov. 22. (UP) Did you know the average husband kisses his wife five times a day—counting pecks and near-misses; 62 per cent of 'em get a night out with the boys once a week, and 49 per cent bawl at sad movies?

Or . . . for every hatchet-killer running loose there are 12 nice guys who dry dishes for the little woman every night? That every businessman in the U. S. is an easy mark if you're collecting dough for sick babies?

Digging up stuff like this is how a Hollywood man named Art Baker makes a living. He rattles it off to the housewives every afternoon while they peel the potatoes in front of their radio. And the women like it.

Baker is carrying on a one-man campaign to publicize nice people.

"I have a 'nice-people' department on my 'Notebook' show," "And I get thousands of letters every week telling me about some anecdote that proves the golden rule. Corny? You bet!"

"Every now and then I get fed up with my 'Caspar Milquetoast' personality that must be about as exciting as long underwear. Just for my own benefit I slip in a line that could be read both ways. And I sit there in front of the mike with a gleam in my eye and chuckle to myself and have a wonderful time."

But it doesn't last long.

"I always think nobody's gonna get it," he winced. "I just throw 'em in there, fast. But the beefs and protests start coming in before I even get off the air."

He tried it again last week—just for fun. The studio switchboard was clogged for hours with indignant calls. The letters and cards came in for days.

Now Baker's sticking to dogs and Lincoln.

Long Search Shows No U.S. Fliers Held by Lolos

By HAROLD K. MILKS

NANKING, Nov. 22. (A.P.) A 15-month search during which American officers lived with primitive Lolo tribesmen in the mud huts of wild west China has "proved conclusively" no American airmen are captives there, the Army announced today.

An Army graves registration spokesman said the long search ended after special teams completed the tracing of every report and rumor. More than a year ago, one American officer returned from a remote tribal village to report "we feel there are five Americans in the Lolo country," but Maj. Alva Smith, commanding a search team, said today:

"Our work positively established that no Americans are held captive."

Maj. Smith of Savannah, Ga., Capt. Edward McCallister, Alleghany, Va., and Sgt. John Fox, Tacoma, Wash., lived with the little known Lolos of the wildly rugged China-Tibet border region during the search.

McCallister and Fox disguised themselves as priests to gain the confidence of the mountain tribesmen. They found slavery a general practice, with Chinese seized in raids on lowland villages held to work while their masters fought with neighboring tribes.

The two followed down one report of a "big-nosed" American captive to find, instead, that one Lolo tribe was holding a north China native whose size and facial characteristics led to reports he was an American airman.

Another report led to a former Chinese soldier who had gained a reputation as a pilot "because he had once ridden in an airplane."

McCallster told the news conference at which the results of the search were disclosed that the Lolos, instead of being wild, semi-savage people, as described in earlier reports, were kind and cooperative once their trust was obtained.

WATER FRONT

Old Ship Now Junk

By EDSEL NEWTON
Press-Telegram Marine Editor

Workmen have cut through the rugged hull of the old Standard Oil tanker, F. H. Hillman, to expose her twin reciprocating engines in their progress of reducing her to scrap. Her big twin emergency steering wheels on the poop, set incongruously there as if ready to totter into the drink, would be pretty things for yard fences or for interior decoration in a nautical club. They have no place on a modern steamship.

The hull of the 500-foot tanker has been stripped to the main deck, and this is coming off in sections. Within a matter of months the once proud and mighty oiler will become other things, like automobile frames and nails and oil tanks and bobby pins. She was built in 1921 at Alameda by Bethlehem and registers 7224 gross tons. The sight of her hulk in the National Steel & Metals yard here, alongside surplus warships of various kinds, brings memories to veteran coastal seamen.

Port officials and maritime men of Long Beach yesterday turned out to welcome Capt. R. L. Wakeland to Long Beach. The young former skipper and deck officer in the ships of Matson, American-Hawaiian, United Fruit, A. P. L. and Pacific Tankers, Inc., has opened a merchant marine library and nautical instrument shop, the first in Long Beach, at 217 E. First St. and is associated with Julian T. Travis, instrument man and former seaman. A U. S. Navy hydrographic chart agency is contemplated. He comes to Long Beach from the C. J. Henry Co. at San Pedro, where until recently he was in charge of charts.

Capt. Wakeland is a brother of Engineer Bob Wakeland, who was captured by the Japs as a member of the crew of the President Harrison at the start of the war. Bob is now an Edison Co. employe at Long Beach. Ray, 20, another brother, is a jr. engineer in the big C-4 ship Marine Lynx.

The second Liberty ship acquired by Coastwise Line in restoration of service between the Pacific Northwest and Long Beach is the Joel Chandler Harris, which follows the James Lick on the run. The Harris is due in here late in December. Two additional Liberties are contemplated for the route. Several modifications in cargo gear are planned.

Harbor Boat Building Co. is completing the $100,000 job of refitting a war-built Navy reefer ship, built on tuna clipper lines, as a live bait clipper. The same yard is making rapid progress in building a 95-foot purse seiner for Vince Simich and completing the big fisherman Anthony M which was started at San Francisco and towed here.

Lamarre Home, Mum on Meyers

DAYTON, Ohio, Nov. 22. (AP) Bleriot H. Lamarre flew home today, but declined to comment further on Maj. Gen. Bennett E. Meyers' testimony that Lamarre's wife was the general's "girl friend."

Lamarre, former president of the Aviation Electric Co. here, arrived by plane before daylight and went immediately to his modest, story-and-a-half frame home, which he bought in March, 1945, for $9000.

He arrived alone, on his trip from Washington; and there was no indication that he met anyone at his house. A light, however, remained on in the house for several hours after his arrival.

Maritime Wages Hearing Canceled

WASHINGTON, Nov. 22. (AP) The Maritime Commission has canceled a hearing previously scheduled for Dec. 9 at San Francisco on minimum manning and wages and reasonable working conditions on ships subsidized by the government.

The commission, noting that ship owners and various collective bargaining agencies had asked a postponement, said that it plans to reset the hearings for sometime in January.

Wholesale Index Sets Record High

NEW YORK, Nov. 22. (AP) Registering its third anniversary Friday-to-Friday advance, the Associate Press composite of 35 wholesale commodity prices attained a record high of 201.55 yesterday. This compared with 199.55 a week earlier and 162.79 a year ago. In the index the base year 1926 equals 100.

Livestock was the only component declining, while new 1947 highs were established at industrials at 174.36, food at 168.13, grains and cotton at 244.80 and textiles at 239.01.

Armed Peasants Killed in Luzon

MANILA, Nov. 22. (AP) Filipino military police said today 12 Hukbalahap armed peasants had been killed in fighting at scattered points in Luzon in the past 24 hours.

Earlier this week, 41 persons—including military and village police and Hukbalahaps—were reported killed in encounters in Nueva Ecija Province.

Theme for all Churches "Soul and Body" will be the subject of the Sunday Lesson-Sermon in all churches of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston. The Golden Text from II Corinthians reads, "We all, with open face beholding as in a glass the glory of the Lord, are changed into the same image from glory to glory, even as by the Spirit of the Lord."

Luke's Gospel relates that when Jesus went into the synagogue, "there was a man whose right hand was withered. And the scribes and Pharisees watched him, whether he would heal on the sabbath day; . . . But he knew their thoughts, and said to the man which had the withered hand, Rise up, and stand forth in the midst. And he arose and stood forth. Then said Jesus unto them, I will ask you one thing; Is it lawful on the sabbath days to do good, or to do evil? to save life, or to destroy it? And looking around about upon them all, he said unto the man, stretch forth thy hand. And he did so: And his hand was restored whole as the other."
